

CONTENTS

Four Types of Skills in Japanese Die and Mold Manufacturing and the Impact of New Technology on Skills : Comparative Analysis on the Literature in Japan	Keiichiro Asai ...	1
Introduction of new technology and skill transformation —A case study of NC direct milling in mold production—	Keiichiro Asai, Yoshi Takahashi ...	13
Language, Meaning, and Games : A Model of Communication, Coordination, and Evolution : Comment	Ryosuke Ishii ...	29
An Analysis of Multiproduct Purchasing Behavior with Disposal Fee	Ryosuke Ishii ...	33
The Necessity for an Information System Education which is Conscious of Internal Control and ERM —Using ERP for Human Resource Development—	Mamoru Uehara ...	37
Consideration about the support to the mother of foreign people of Japanese Municipality : A case study of Yokohama city	Toshiaki Kawata ...	51
The role of venture capital in fostering early stage university spin-offs.	Yuki Tamai ...	63
A discussion on service dominant logic	Kousou Fu ...	79
“Idea Work” by Faculty of Business at Aichi Shukutoku University : Exploring Education for Creativity and Communication	Yuki Tamai et al. ...	89